House Overrides Veto 331-83—Senate To Act Later

Dedicate New Flaherty Field Thursday Night

Formal Ceremonies Are Conducted Between Games At Field Last Night

JUDGE BRAHAM MAKES ADDRESS

Some sort of compromise between Jupiter Pluvius and the Johnson Bronze Employees Association must have been effected Thursday night June 19, and the P. J. Flaherty Field, the new baseball field of the association in the Croton district was formally dedicated.

Three postponements had been necessary because of rain, but although the postponements were a minor disappointment to the men and women of the association, it was a fine thing for the newly seeded field. Green as Erin's Isle and as level as a floor, the field was a picture. Overhead, the modern floodlights bathed the field and the crowd with a brilliance that could probably be seen as far as Mars.

Between Games
The dedication ceremony took place midway between the Evans City-Beaver Falls game and the Johnson Bronze-Mars League game. This article is not concerned with the results of the games, those will be found on the sports page.

At 9 o'clock Budd Russell, oldest employee of Johnson Bronze in years of service, gathered the teams and the participants in the program about him at the home plate and opened the dedication.

Pa Newc Observes

The old roof on the West Side school house which has been protecting boys and girls alike from the elements for the past 33 years is coming off. Workmen were busy engaged on Thursday afternoon removing the old slate to make room for a new roof to make room for the appearance of which will enhance the appearance of the building. The inside walls of the building are being washed down too so as to provide a cleaner building for students next fall.

Engineers of the city were busy on Thursday afternoon sighting spots for the location of the new street signs in the West Side area. The city electrician likewise was surveying the sites for the proposed new traffic lights that are to be installed by the city at busy intersections.

Hard to get rice for use on the tables of local residents is evidently not difficult to secure by fun makers if the amount found in front of a number of local churches is any criterion. Brides and bridegrooms are receiving their share of it and it isn't going on their tables either.

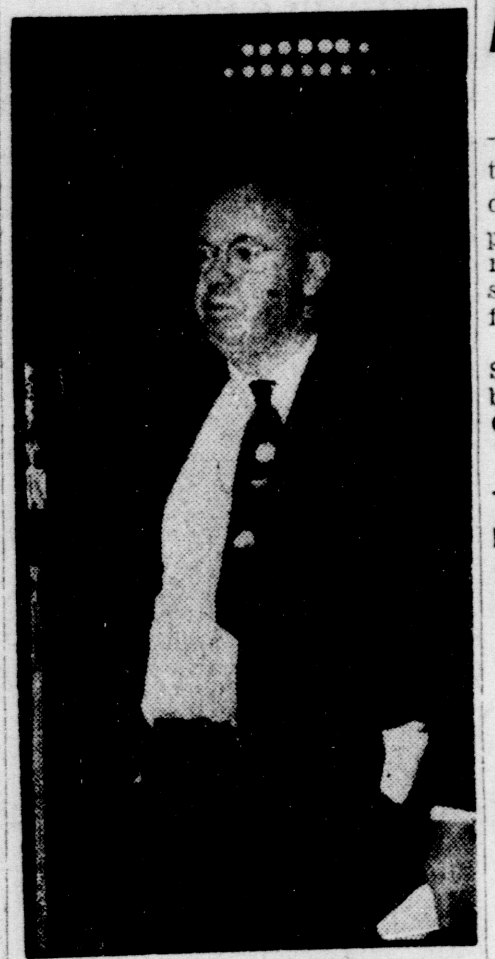

Boys and girls about the city have about six weeks grace left in the operation of their bicycles before they will have to register the two-wheel vehicles and secure license plates for them. The new registration law for bikes goes into effect on August 1. Sidewalks about the city are being used as a roadway by many boys and girls and are definite menaces to the public.

Robert Mitchell, of Audley avenue, brought a copy of a very old Bible to the office of The News this morning. The volume was printed in Edinburgh, Scotland, by Mark and Charles Kerr, his majesty's printers, in 1777, it states in the front (Continued on Page Two)

Syria Crash Death Toll Is Now Eighteen

ISTANBUL, June 20.—(INS)—Preliminary investigation into the crash of the Pan American Clipper Eclipse that took the lives of 18 persons revealed today that the plane capsized and broke in two pieces while making a forced landing in the desert.

A Pan American Constellation took off from Shannon Airport early today for Damascus to pick up the survivors of the plane's 36 occupants.

Meanwhile, a team of investigators headed by James Smith, Pan American joint general manager, arrived at the crash site this morning. Smith had been aboard another plane, inaugurating Pan American's round-the-world passenger service.

Fifteen Killed Instantly
Accompanied by aeronautical experts and doctors, he left Istanbul this morning for the border of Syria, Iraq and Turkey where the ill-fated "Eclipse" crashed.

Early investigation by the group revealed that the pilot noticed engine trouble about 250 miles from Damascus. It is believed that one engine was afire and that the crew succeeded in extinguishing the flames. However, when the plane completed its forced landing, the disastrous break-up occurred.

Fifteen of the 36 occupants were killed almost instantly. Three others died later of injuries.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—The U. S. attorney's office said today that Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has been ordered to appear in Washington federal court next Thursday to be committed to serve his six to 18 months sentence for war fraud conspiracy.
Assistant U. S. Attorney Sidney Sachs said Curley's attorneys and bondsmen had been notified to have Curley in court on that date.
Under regular court procedure the mandate of the court of appeals ordering that Curley's sentence be put into effect will be presented to the court next Thursday. Unless weighty objections are raised by the defense Curley would be turned over by the court to the United States Marshal to be taken to a federal jail.

It was anticipated, however, that the lawyers for the 72-year-old Massachusetts Democrat who is reported to be seriously ill will seek to delay his imprisonment.

Levees Holding Against Flood

No Immediate Danger Of Breaks In Dikes Along Swollen Mississippi

QUINCY, Ill., June 20.—(INS)—Weakened levees held out today against a 24-foot flood crest rolling down the Mississippi river and endangering a vast area of rich farmland.

Philip Shenkenberg, director of the Red Cross disaster headquarters at Quincy, said there appeared to be no immediate danger of any breaks in the dikes either on the Illinois or Missouri side of the turbulent Mississippi.
Scattered showers, forecast today for the corn belt states of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, were expected to swell the flood waters that for more than two weeks have waterlogged the river areas of the midwest.

The 24-foot flood crest was expected to reach the Quincy area late today or early tomorrow, and repair crews labored throughout the night to strengthen the weakened dikes.
As further corn-growing areas were threatened, corn futures advanced to one-eighth of a cent of the all-time record price on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Senators Give Views On Labor Bill Veto

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—Rep. Hartley (R) N. J., joint author of the Labor Bill disapproved today by President Truman, went on record quickly to predict enactment of the measure over the veto.

Commenting on the veto, Hartley said: "There is no possibility of any new legislation. The bill is going to become law over the veto."

"If any of the President's predictions should come to pass, it will not be because this bill is too comprehensive, but because it is not comprehensive enough."

Other comment:

Senators Comment

Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa: "I recall that the President proposed a year or so ago to put people to work at the points of bayonets—to draft them into the army—and the Republicans stopped him. That was more 'dictation' than anything Mr. Truman can find in this bill."

Sen. Capehart (R) Ind.: "It seems (Continued on Page Two)

Rent Control Bill Awaiting Truman Action

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—The GOP rent control extension bill was before President Truman today for his expected "reluctant" approval.

The measure was sent to the White House after it passed the Senate by a voice vote. The bill extends federal controls until Feb. 29, 1948, but permits "voluntary" rent increases up to 15 per cent.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, predicted that a presidential veto of the bill would mean the end of federal controls on June 30.

Administration sources predicted that because of this situation Mr. Truman will sign the measure with reluctance and blast Congress for its action.

Taft, GOP policy leader, said: "I don't think he'd get anything else from this session of Congress. It's pretty much a case of take it or leave it."

Oil Shipments To Soviet, Cause Furore In U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—The possibility of gasoline rationing was raised on Capitol Hill today amid a furore over disclosure that petroleum shipments are going to Russia while the United States faces a critical shortage.

Rep. E. A. O'Ronski (R) Wis., said government officials are "considering rationing of gasoline in the United States within the next 30 days."

O'Ronski said continuing the present policy of oil shipments would be "suicidal" and charged that "if war broke out today, our military could not meet the emergency."

The Wisconsin congressman said Russia has the greatest oil reserves, 150 million barrels, while the United States is fourth in petroleum reserves.

Wisconsin Passes Strict Labor Bill

The measure was passed by the Wisconsin legislature last night. It was drawn up by a number of labor experts in Wisconsin colleges and provides for compulsory arbitration by the state as a final resort in settling labor-management disagreements in public utilities.

The bill outlaws strikes, slow downs, and lockouts in telephone, gas, electric, water, bus, and other transportation and communication companies, with the exception of railroads. Under the measure, violation of the act is punishable by a $250 fine or a one-year jail sentence.

Taft-Hartley Labor Bill Gets President's Veto

President Sends Congress Message Giving His Reasons For Action

MOVES TO OVERRIDE VETO SCHEDULED (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—President Truman vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill today because it would sow "seeds of discord which would plague the nation for years to come."

The president declared that the labor control measure would provoke strikes and lead to "government dictation" in labor-management relations.

In a sharp 5,000-word message to congress Mr. Truman declared, however, that some labor legislation "is necessary."

He asked congress to reconsider and produce a new and workable bill "which is moderate in spirit and which relates to known abuses." The president said "there is still genuine opportunity for the enactment of appropriate labor legislation this session (of congress)."

Republican and southern Democratic leaders were confident, however, that both the house and the senate will vote to override the presidential veto.

The house will vote on the veto this afternoon and the senate is expected to act tomorrow.

To Speak Tonight
The president will make a "fire-side" chat to the nation tonight to explain his veto action.

The White House said the broadcast, over all networks, will take place at 10 p. m. (EDT) and will last about 15 minutes.

TAFT-HARTLEY LABOR BILL GETS PRESIDENT'S VETO

answer the president in a broadcast over the Mutual system at 10:45 p. m. (EDT).
Sen. Alben Barkley, Democratic senate leader, and Sen. Walter George of Georgia, chief of the southern bloc, were invited to the White House for lunch today.
It was indicated that the White House was making a last-minute effort to induce Democratic senators to swing the fullest possible weight against the GOP drive to override the veto in the senate.
George voted for the labor bill. He said that he thought the president knew he could not change his stand on the measure.

Veto Objections
The president's veto message to the house listed nine specific objections to the legislation. He asked congress to reconsider and produce a new and workable labor bill.
Mr. Truman reiterated the recommendations he made to congress on labor in his annual state of the union message last January in which he called for a ban on jurisdictional strikes and some secondary boycotts and proposed a long-range study of industrial relations.

The president found the Taft-Hartley bill failed to measure up to four tests which he applied to the legislation. He termed it wanting in fairness and workability. He said it would not improve employer-employee relations and would result in more government interference in the nation's economic life.

Among the major specific objections voiced by Mr. Truman to the bill were:
It would cause more strikes; it would discriminate against workers; it contained many unworkable and unduly burdensome provisions; it exposed employers to numerous hazards; it restricted normal collective bargaining, and it dealt ineffectively with major strikes.

Mr. Truman asserted that Taft-Hartley measure would "require the government, in effect, to become an unwanted participant at every bargaining table." He added: "It would superimpose bureaucratic procedure on the free decisions of local employers and employees... this is a long step toward the settlement of economic issues by government dictation."

Mr. Truman said the bill would go far toward weakening trade unions and destroying national unity. He said it would invite labor and management to gain their ends through direct political action, warning:
"I think it would be exceedingly dangerous to our country to develop a class basis for political action."

The chief executive condemned "abuses" on the part of both unions and employers, but stated that the Taft-Hartley bill was not a solution to such problems.

VETO BEATEN IN HOUSE BY FOUR TO ONE MAJORITY
The vote to override was even larger than the count by which the measure originally was passed, when the tally was 308 to 107.

Decisively Beaten
Veteran observers could not remember when a president was so decisively beaten on a veto.

In its overwhelming refusal to uphold the president's rejection the House ignored his warning that the bill would sow "seed of discord which would plague the nation for years to come."

The Senate is expected to act on the presidential veto tomorrow. Republican Senate leaders and southern Democrats predict the upper branch also will override the veto which will make the Taft-Hartley measure law.

Administration leaders say the vote in the Senate will be close.

Castle," said he. "We are here to dedicate a baseball field, which in turn is merely the beginning of a comprehensive recreation area. This is made possible through the fine cooperation of the company and the Employees Association and as general Chairman I want to thank everybody who has had a part in this fine venture." Bart Richards was introduced as master of ceremonies.

Daughterly Speaks
Joseph Daugherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Employees Association, was the first speaker. Said he: "This is a dream which all of us have had for years. Tonight it is realized. It represents the combined efforts of the company and the employees to secure for New Castle a modern baseball plant and a fine recreational area. When it was time to give the field a name there was but one name submitted, that of P. J. Flaherty, the man who has made Johnson Bronze the plant it is. This is a happy occasion, one in which we all join and speaking for the employees of the plant I want to express our appreciation."

Mayor Speaks
Mayor John P. Haven was the second speaker. Said he: "Recreation has been one thing in which I have always been interested. As a city we must have spots where our young men and women can enjoy wholesome sport and for years I have dreamed of such a place as this. Now we have it thanks to P. J. Flaherty, his family, and the men and women of the Johnson Bronze company. This is a night we shall all remember."

Judge Braham Dedicates
To Judge W. Walter Braham was assigned the task of making the formal dedicatory address and he did it well. Among other things he said, "there are three reasons for this occasion. The first is that the Johnson Bronze company has been headed by a man of genius and distinction, a powerhouse of energy, as brave as he is strong. The second is that the Johnson Bronze has been blessed with a fine corps of workmen. Leaders in industry we must have, at whatever cost, but the leader is powerless unless there are behind him the faithful and patient ones able to translate his plans into action. The third reason for our rejoicing is most significant; in this industry, employer and employee have been able to work together."

"We dedicate this field to the men and women of the Johnson Bronze company whose industry has helped to make the company great and whose savings have contributed to the founding of this fine place of recreation. May it promote their health, their team play, their prosperity!"

"We dedicate this field to perpetuate the name and good report of P. J. Flaherty and his three sons, Preston, Edward and Joseph, their courageous leadership, their fairness with their employees and their generosity to their home community. He that would be great among you let him be servant of all."

"We dedicate this field to the people of greater New Castle as the joint benefaction of the management and the employees of the Johnson Bronze company. May it produce stronger sons, happier families and a saner people. May P. J. Flaherty Field forever stand to mark the great days when the officers and men of a fine industry united to serve their community."

Mr. Flaherty Replies
P. J. Flaherty, chairman of the board of Johnson Bronze company, made the reply to the dedication. Said he: "The original idea for this field was not mine, it was my son's. I cannot help but be proud that my name has been given to the field and this I appreciate. This is but the beginning. Soon we will have the fine recreational area where our employees and the citizens of New Castle may enjoy themselves in sports and recreation in the great outdoors. We of Johnson Bronze are proud of this field, proud of the fine work of our employees and I hope the combined efforts of management and employees will result in benefits to the entire city."

First Ball Thrown
The first ball was then pitched with the battery, Flaherty and Russler, P. J. and Budd. It was announced that Mr. Flaherty would use a new pitch, known as a miracle ball, or to explain, it would be a miracle if the ball got up to home plate. It did—on the first bounce. Catcher Russler picked it up with all the eclat of a Bill Dickey and the dedication was over.

It was indeed an auspicious night for recreation in New Castle. It was the formal opening of a plant that will provide sport for thousands through the years to come, a baseball field that would do credit to a league team and all of it was made possible because management and employees sat down together and pooled their abilities and their money to bring about a common good.

About four-fifths of the residents of Canada were born in the country.

LARGEST FOR LEGISLATORS

The 1947 session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly is history now, but a history to which no one can point with any particular pride. It was an unimpressive session that took too long and did too little.

A few needed things were done, some more was half done and other things necessary went undone. True, some taxing authority was given cities, the school teachers' salary schedule was revised upwards a bit, and some labor legislation was passed.

But the prize package of the entire session was the bill which went through in the frantic rush of the last week, the bill to give each of the 258 members of the House and Senate $2,400 per biennium for "expenses."

Had the Assemblymen had the courage to call it a raise in salary, at least their courage could have been respected. But to up their biennial stipend $2,400 for two years under the guise of "expenses" is too naive.

Expense money is not taxable, hence the raise they have tried to hand themselves really means about $2,900, or 96.6 percent. One legislator explained it by saying that the General Assembly would soon have to meet every year in order to care for the burden of work. Apparently he had not read the constitution which sets the meeting times of the General Assembly, and any change would have to come through a constitutional amendment. As it now is, a special session gets the members from $500 to $750 each, additional money, plus mileage, plus postage.

Of course other raises were granted. Elected county officials were given a ten per cent increase. The teachers were given a raise also, over the present mandated salary schedule but the raise is far from satisfactory to the teachers.

After looking at the various raises granted by the General Assembly this question arises in our mind. If a General Assemblyman, who may or may not be an educated person, is worth $5,400, plus mileage and postage, for about 100 days service, how much is a teacher holding a Master of Arts degree, with 15 years of experience teaching mathematics or science worth for 180 days service in the school term?

The General Assembly has passed the "boodle bill" for themselves. Now it is on Governor James H. Duff's desk, where we sincerely hope it gets the gubernatorial ax.

There is this to be said however. Many of the Assemblymen who voted the unconscionable increase for themselves, at the expense of other public servants, will probably never collect any of the increase.

In 1948, we have an idea, "there'll be some changes made."

THEY LIKE SCHOOL

Today's school children, according to a survey of 374 seventh and eighth grade children in New York, like to go to school.

A clear majority—68 per cent of the girls and 57 per cent of the boys—said they liked school. Skeptics may discount these replies as mere apple-polishing, but every effort was made to take precautions against that. Youngsters who filled out the questionnaire were told that they would not be "marked" on it.

Very few among the group tested—eight per cent of the boys and 10 per cent of the girls—said they actively disliked school. But a considerably greater proportion were indifferent or bored.

This survey reveals progress. Half a century ago the idea was prevalent that medicine and teaching were of no avail unless they left a bad taste in the mouth, but more recent studies have shown that what a child gets out of school is closely correlated with how well he likes it.

Answers to other questions on the survey led Dr. Louis Monash of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, who analyzed the poll, to reach four conclusions.

Students who liked school did the best work. Subjects calling for creative work and plenty of activity were most popular. Excessive homework led to dislike of school. The personality of teachers has most to do with whether students like school and do good work.

The taxing power, which formerly was vested in Congress, has now been seized by the White House.

Graduates, with nothing to do but go out and take over the world, seem undecided whether they want it.

Three scientific expeditions set out to search for rare insects and spiders. Seems to us we have enough varieties on hand already.

A rocket capable of reaching a height of 235 miles has been developed by the War Department, but to bag Stalin a missile capable of boring to the nether regions will be required.

When Truman says taxes should not be reduced because people would spend their own money foolishly if the politicians did not take it from them, does he mean for new automobiles or new houses?

Hints On Etiquette

Children, like adults, resent being talked down to, and it really is rude for a grown person to talk in a silly, affected manner to a child of any age—like patronizing an adult and making that person feel inferior.

Washington Calling

Small Producers Are Being Squeezed

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Under the shadow of the giants of big business and the giants of big labor, the small business man is wondering what his future may be. That is true in particular of the manufacturers who compete in a small way with one of the giants.

The other day, the Committee for Economic Development put out a detailed program of reform in finance intended to help small business meet the competition of big business. The organization of conscientious business men is now preparing a similar program for tax reform.

Industry-wide collective bargaining which sets an industry-wide wage pattern is a source of worry to the executives of smaller corporations. I have just had an interesting series of letters from a manufacturer in an eastern city who expresses what is plainly a real fear that uniform wage demands made on the giant corporation and on the smaller manufacturer will promote giantism and the growth of monopoly. He writes:

Marginal Mills
"In this city there are 15 or 20 manufacturers who employ anywhere from 100 to 1,000 employees each, and these employees are members of the United Steel Workers Union. Some of these companies—a few—are reasonably prosperous. Many of them are not prosperous and are what might be termed marginal mills."

"Most of them are engaged in activities which bear no relationship whatever to basic steel fabrication. Their competition lies in entirely different fields. If they

HENRY FORD

The name of Henry Ford is better known among all the peoples scattered over the face of the earth than any other name. No King, Emperor, Empress or Dictator, such as Hitler or Stalin, are known so widely and by so many peoples.

From the standpoint of history, the name of Henry Ford will stand as the exponent of individualism under a capitalistic system of free enterprise. His own history, his rise from the owner of a little "tinkering" shop to the head of a billion-dollar industry, is too well known to need repeating. It was the typical story of American opportunity—the traditional chance open to all the poor and obscure lads of this country to climb to the top of the ladder. It was a story that paralleled those of Edison and Bell and Westinghouse and the others whose

RAKES
There are two kinds of rakes. One kind of rake is a tool. It is used in gardening or farming. The other kind of rake is a person whose morals are not too good. A garden rake is a useful tool. It is dangerous too. Every year some people get hurt on rakes. Rakes are usually pretty sharp. They make an ugly wound. Children like to play with a rake. They are likely to let it lie on the ground with the sharp points up. Then some one steps on it. If you step on a rake the sharp points may injure your foot. Perhaps you may step on the sides of the teeth and the handle will fly up and break your glasses. If you see a rake on the ground, turn it over or put it in a safe place.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LIVING WITH YOUR IN-LAWS REQUIRES TACT

During the war, while young fathers were in the armed forces, ever so many young mothers with a child or so lived with her parents or her husband's. A large proportion of these young mothers still live with the grandparents and the father has been added to the group, thanks to the housing shortage. Moreover, a good many thousand babies have been born to these young couples since the fathers have been discharged.

During the war the veteran's wife moved in with her folks far more often than with his. It is easy to see that his joining her at her home could add to family tensions. Often he may feel, as with pretty good reasons, that he does not stand in so well with the in-laws as she does, which feelings must strain relations between him and his wife and lessen the morale of the whole family aggregation.

Moreover, the usual problems of disciplining the child are intensified by the situation. If these young parents lived alone they might have more tensions over the child's upbringing because the mother had been with him alone so long. Now that the entire young family must live with the in-laws the usual irritations likely to arise between the young father and mother are pretty sure to increase.

Certainly, the life of the veteran's family with the in-laws can't be very easy, as a rule, nor is it easy on the in-laws, for that matter. New problems with the child are sure to arise and old ones to grow more serious.

No Other Choice

But until the housing shortage can be corrected there is no other choice but this doubling-up. Until then conditions hardly can approach the ideal, for any or all concerned.

However, there is one direction for making the most of the bad situation; namely, for the in-laws and the young parents to think individually and collectively through (Continued on Page Seven)

They do it . . . yes sir . . . the new Flaherty Field was dedicated last evening . . . and a very nice group of citizens were on hand to help in the ceremonies. In addition to the formal speeches, reading of congratulatory telegrams and the like . . . a double-header took place with the powerful Jay-Bee team pulling out in front in one game and Evans City taking the other.

What a beautiful ball park it is . . . the green grass, the bright lights . . . the uniform vendors . . . everything in the big league style. Really the greatest sports offering the community has ever had. Congratulations to the men and women of the Employees Association of the Johnson Bronze for presenting the opportunity to this community to have and enjoy a wonderful baseball park . . . may we always live in concord and in peace.

The Mayor of New Castle John H. Most of the men just recently sworn in are ex-service men who of course know how to properly wear a uniform . . . They take pride in seeing that their articles of wearing apparel are properly adjusted and that they walk their beats with dignity. In other words they make a nice impression . . . some of the older men on the force do the same . . . all in all now there are only a very few who have slipped in keeping up their appearance.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to have the city help buy uniforms . . . so that each man would be dressed in the same style . . . winter and summer respectively . . . Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A letter in today's mail has me stumped.

Since I am not going to mention any names or place, I feel that I am not violating any confidence.

But I shall tell you about it since there must be thousands of others in the same predicament as the writer.

The woman is in the fifties. She is lonesome and unhappy.

Her husband died several years ago; her children are grown up. She is a good cook and loves to keep house. But she doesn't like to cook or keep house for herself and so she wants to get married again.

But where can she find a husband?

Most of the men she knows are married and, on account of her age, she hasn't any friends who can introduce her to men who may be "marriageable."

So now she asks me what to do.

She wants me to tell her how to get a husband.

Pretty soon she is going to have a two weeks' vacation.

Can I suggest a place where she might meet the right man?

Shall she go on a cruise? To a resort?

She has tried clubs. No good. She has taken up hobbies. That didn't work.

A home—that seems to be the only out. A home with a husband in it.

And will I, please, tell her how to go about it.

I sincerely sympathize with my correspondent.

I wish I could help her.

But if I could I would be more than human.

Who can prescribe happiness? Who can tell anyone how to reach the end of the rainbow?

I don't think happiness comes by looking for it.

I don't think that you can get happiness with a gun or with bait like you go hunting for game or angling for fish.

Of course I could give the lady all kinds of rite advice.

I could tell her to join clubs—but she has done it. I could tell her to go on a cruise or to a resort, but I don't believe that that will do her any good.

So, I am not going to tell her anything of the kind.

What I am going to tell her is something she won't like.

She has had happiness, she tells me. She was supremely happy with her husband whom she loved and to whom she was married for many years.

Isn't that more than most people have had? Isn't the memory of that happiness happiness in itself?

Isn't it to quote an old saying better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all?

If she finds another husband with whom to be happy, it will happen just as it did the first time.

She may find him anywhere, any time, when she least expects to find him.

If I do not, my advice is to let yesterday's happiness do for tomorrow.

Good Taste

PARTY CALLS

Question: Has the custom of making "party calls" died out?

Answer: To a certain extent, this custom has died out in these days of informality, but there are still many who consider it obligatory.

If it is friends who have entertained you are meticulous about such social matters, I should strongly advise you to follow this custom.

In any event, your hostess will surely appreciate some form of courteous acknowledgment of her hospitality. Many busy people, instead of paying "party visits" reciprocate within a week or two with an invitation to a party or dinner given by themselves. If you do not make a call, at least tell your hostess very cordially and tell her how much you enjoyed her party.

Question: My son has recently become engaged to a young woman in a different state. Please give me the following information: (1) How long should a visit to her home last to be proper and in good taste; also when she visits his home? (2) Should they purchase the "set" of wedding rings? Should the bride supply the groom's? (3) Aside from the bride's bouquet, should they plan a wedding, should the groom buy the bridesmaids' flowers and pay for the wedding cake?

Answer: (1) The length of the visit is not a question of taste, but rather of expediency and convenience of all concerned—the longer the better might be a good idea to see how well they all wear on one another.

(2) The groom, of course, should supply the bride's ring and the bride should supply him in the case of a double ring ceremony.

(3) The groom should pay for the bride's bouquet and he usually supplies all flowers, including the mothers' corsages. He should also pay the clergyman's fee presented by the best man, cars to take all members of the bridal party to and from the church, as well as all of the honeymoon expenses. The reception expenses, the organist's, the soloist's and the sexton's fees must be borne by the bride or her family.

Hungarian Coup d'Etat Designed to Checkmate U. S.? Rent Control Bill To Be Vetoes, Say Democrats Did Blitz Cost Germany War Victory?

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Some diplomats believe that Russia's coup d'etat in Hungary was a bold stroke designed to checkmate the United States in the Mediterranean. They consider Russia's entry into Hungary both as a forceful answer to the Truman doctrine in Greece and Turkey and as a part of a plan to move into control of the Adriatic and Italy, where the Communists have long been the strongest political party.

With Hungary and Soviet-controlled Yugoslavia as easy stepping stones, Russia is now in a position to wield more influence in Italy and the Adriatic than ever before. However, it is believed that Russia is biding its time before it tries to bring Italy into the Russian hegemony.

It is known that President Truman's grave concern over Greece stemmed in many respects from Communist activities behind-the-scenes which had all the earmarks of seeking to undermine United States-British power. Swift American financial aid, however, blunted Soviet encroachments in the eastern Mediterranean and led the Kremlin to pursue its expansionist policies elsewhere.

Thus Hungary fell to the Russians, who had been preparing for its downfall for some time by bleeding the country economically and harassing its independent leaders politically.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS IN CONGRESS believe President Truman will veto the rent control extension bill because of the provision for "voluntary" increases of 15 per cent over those in effect last Sept. 1 in leases running beyond Dec. 31, 1948.

President Truman is also said to look with disfavor on the provision dismantling remaining construction controls, despite warnings from Housing Expedient Creighton that this will upset present high level residential construction.

Both these provisions are bound to be in the final bill worked out by the House-Senate conferees, since both Houses have adopted them in their respective measures.

If the president does veto the bill, a battle similar to that which occurred a year ago when he first vetoed OPA extension is in prospect. Congress, however, will have time to pass a new extension measure before rent controls expire June 30.

HITLER MAY HAVE LOST THE WAR because he relied too much on the Blitz and too little on accepted modes of warfare. This is the belief of Lt. Gen. R. S. McLean of the War Department general staff.

McLean told a congressional committee that Hitler, in launching the war, "decided that he could win using blitz tactics with air and armor as his major weapons."

Der Fuehrer was correct, the general asserted, until the German war machine was stopped at Stalingrad, Moscow, Leningrad and at El Alamein in Africa. McLean added: "In fighting the war from that point on, Hitler had made the fatal mistake of failing to develop an adequate and efficient artillery."

The general pointed out that the Allies had learned their lesson in World War I, when German artillery caused 67 per cent of the casualties.

With artillery, "in ample proportions," McLean added, the Allies stopped the Nazis. He declared that without it "the Americans could not have stopped the (German) drive on Salerno . . . the Anzio beach-head would have been wiped out (and) the same thing could be said of Normandy . . ."

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

President Truman's firm endorsement of military training for American youth on the grounds such a measure is essential for preservation of peace in a world riddled with suspicion and jealousy attracted wide attention in Europe today.

His Princeton speech emphasizing this necessity evoked a wide variety of comment and each of the various countries on the continent recalled its own experiences with military service under peacetime regulations.

Some results of military indoctrination abroad have been valuable contributions to history.

Others have been detrimental. But in most respects the reverence given to military knowledge and behavior in foreign lands has engendered national discipline and the hard, cold facts are that a country whose youth has been trained for survival is most assured of survival.

Debatable Aspect

The most debatable aspect of military training throughout the centuries has been the willingness of young men to volunteer.

This did not apply in ancient times. Armies originally were products of agriculture and the soil, when primitive farming tools were weapons and all men considered self-defense as vital to them as food and lodging.

The middle ages brought a change, and knight-hood created the warrior caste, when only aristocrats could afford the expensive armor and other military trappings of the time.

It was Napoleon, during his rule as first consul, who made the first departure in a radical sense from the medieval.

He called for volunteers of all ages up to 40. But while two and a half million Frenchmen—at that time a terrific ratio to the total population—responded initially, the system broke down and there even was a revolt in the vendee by older men who saw no reason to be taken from their farms.

Modified Plan

Napoleon eventually modified the plan and set twenty-five years as the maximum age limit.

Enlistments were on a three-year basis. And because of this constant turnover and the maintenance of a permanent military corps at the top, France developed an officer cadre that has had no equal in history.

Prussia followed Napoleon's example and carried militarism through to what historians have termed its "logical conclusion"—the waging of aggressive wars in 1870, 1914 and 1939.

This is perhaps the essential difference between old line European practices and the preventive measures envisaged by the Truman Administration.

The United Nations charter and the statements of leading countries have emphasized for months on end that war is unthinkable, undesired and all but impossible. Yet much the same thing has been said for decades past. Britain learned to its undoing cost in 1940 that one-sided disarmament is not a paying proposition.

And by the same token, a well-trained soldier is a great deal more than just a man in uniform.

B. And O. Rest House Foundation Begun

Headquarters For B. And O. Employees Being Erected On East Cherry Street Ext.

Work is progressing on the foundation for the B. & O. railroad rest house, being erected on ground on East Cherry street extension.

Part of the foundation wall has been completed, which is eight feet from the footer to the first floor; the wall will run to about seven feet high at the west end; there will be no basement.

The foreman states that the heavy rains, and high water in the Shenango river near by, has delayed the progress of the work. With expected better weather to have the walls up, then the upper structure will go on apace.

The building will be 30 by 100 and 70 feet long. It will be for the accommodation of train crews going and coming from their runs. Many of the employees working out from this district reside elsewhere, and this building will have suitable quarters for them to lay over 16 hours or more before going out on their work again.

There will be a restaurant, reading room, rest rooms and sleeping quarters. This will prove a boon to the railroaders, especially during these times of house shortage.

Clearview Ave. Paving Asked

Petition Presented To Council Asking That Street Be Surfaced

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

Property owners of Clearview avenue, residing between Long avenue and Reynolds street, petitioned council, at their Thursday meeting to pave the thoroughfare with a hard material, it being understood that the abutting property-owners would pay in advance for the paving. The petition was referred by Streets Director Gibson to the city engineer's department for checking foot frontage and properties involved.

Director Gibson introduced an ordinance providing for the ordaining of Matson street, a new thoroughfare in the Jackson avenue plot. It was referred to committee.

An ordinance was introduced whereby the city will condemn and take a lot at Sampson and Rebecca street for a "turn table" for buses which will run to that intersection when the PUC grants an extension of service to the local bus company. It was sent to committee for consideration.

A resolution was introduced by Director Gibson and passed whereby the city exonerates $87.75, city tax on P. J. Flaherty field, because it is being used for recreation purposes. The resolution was seconded by Councilman Alexander.

Sees Shortage Of Steel Ending Late This Year

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS) Wilfred Sykes of Chicago, president of the Inland Steel Co., Thursday forecast the end of the steel shortage late this year.

Sykes told the Martin senate steel subcommittee:

"I am satisfied that in general by the end of this year ample steel will be available to satisfy the needs of the country."

The Chicago steel executive told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Martin (R) Pa., that changing conditions are creating an abnormal demand for sheet steel.

He said that large sums of money are being spent to add to the sheet finishing capacity, but that due to delays in getting equipment these facilities will not be available for some time to come.

Sykes blamed 1946 steel and coal strikes for the loss of between 12 and 14 million tons of ingot production, which he said would have gone "a long ways toward satisfying the demand."

The Inland official predicted a peak steel demand for the future of 76 million tons yearly.

A MESSAGE to FARMERS

Rain almost everywhere has interfered with the planting of oats and corn. It may interfere with hay harvest.

In any event you will want the maximum feeding value from your hay crop.

A hay drier will reduce your need for grain by greatly improving the quality and protein value of your hay, even in good weather.

If the weather is unfavorable a hay drier will often save a crop which, otherwise, might be a total loss. Most driers will pay for their entire cost this first year.

Bell From Warship At State Museum

HARRISBURG, June 20.—(INS) —The state museum has received the 1100-pound bell from the USS Pennsylvania which was decommissioned at Seattle, Wash., navy yard.

The ship, commissioned in 1916, had 26 commanders including Milo F. Draemel of Philadelphia. Draemel, now a retired admiral and state secretary of forests and waters, commanded the famed battleship from October 2, 1936, to October 16, 1937. All the commanders of the Pennsylvania, which was struck by a sneak attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941, were listed on a heavy bronze plate attached to a bulkhead on the ship's bridge. The plate was shipped to the museum along with the bell by the navy department. Dr. Donald Cadzow, director of the museum commission, said the bell was delivered by an expressman who had served on the Pennsylvania when it was attacked at Pearl Harbor. The bell will be placed in the trophy room of the museum, Cadzow added.

WASHINGTON CALLING

are to be subject to decisions made in Pittsburgh, in negotiations between the U. S. Steel Co. and Philip Murray, many of them are going to be hurt. Obviously the weakest will fold first, which means unemployment and the loss of production.

This seemed to me a powerful point. In a reply, however, I asked the manufacturer whether it was not true that the pattern of monopoly prices in the steel industry had not worked to eliminate the small business long before the labor monopoly came into being. In his fair and judicious reply he said:

"The reason for the existence of large basic corporations is not generally due to monopolistic squeezes, on the contrary. It is because the technologies involved require large capital. There are exceptions, and where exceptions exist, the government should step in—witness aluminum.

Monopolies Accentuated

"Nevertheless, the very monopolistic conditions which you deplore are accentuated by industry bargaining. What recourse does a little 600-man company like ours have, when it is faced with demands from Pittsburgh, other than to combine with other companies under similar pressure in order to protect what we have? And our jobs, from president on down to our depend on that protection.

"Today the men and women in our little company are satisfied. We are paying liberal wages, equal or above the area. Nevertheless, they have been told by their United Steel Workers organizer, who gets his orders from Pittsburgh, that he—not they—will tell us what we are to do. And he tells us that we are to increase our wages by the same amount that basic steel has granted. What relationship is there between basic steel and lock-making?

Eliminated By Senate

"In the face of a very large loss last year and an acute financial condition today, he demands an increase of approximately $150,000 in the annual payroll. Would you, or could you, if you were the manager of this business, order a price decrease? And yet our products—locks for dwellings and other buildings—are selling at prices far in excess of what we consider reasonable.

A ban on industry-wide bargaining was included in the labor bill passed by the House. In the Senate, at the insistence of moderates such as Sen. Irvine Ives of New York, this was eliminated. In the final draft, language was inserted in the bill providing that when a national emergency grows out of a strike, the unions must consider, in polling their membership, the last wage offer of "each employer" and not the industry as a whole. Some experts believe this could be interpreted to forbid industry-wide bargaining in most industries.

There are evils in industry-wide bargaining, with small manufacturers taking the rap. But whether these evils can be cured by law is certainly open to doubt.

ways of better mutual understanding and of working out some plans to reduce irritations that can be foreseen. It is amazing how much can be done through intelligent, cooperative planning for better family adjustments, especially around two matters—financial responsibilities and responsibilities concerning the young children.

Assuming that the young parents can work cooperatively with each other in the care and guidance of the children, the next problem for these parents is to persuade the grandparents to keep hands off the children, so long as these children are not deliberately destructive of their property. My bulletin, "Some Suggestions to Grandparents," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

As for finances, the older and younger couples should write out some definite understandings. Any registered agreement on such matters should reduce tensions and promote family happiness.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

careers have contributed to human welfare and human progress.

Peculiar Feature

A peculiar feature of Ford's success was the harvest of invaluable advertising he reaped through good-natured ridicule of his earlier product. The quipsters unconsciously made "Ford" a household word and created more curiosity among potential automobile buyers than thousands of dollars' worth of paid advertising could have done. While the jokesmiths were proclaiming that "Ford had put the country on its feet" Ford actually was putting the country on rubber-tired wheels. Fortunately for the nation and the world, Henry Ford's venture into the realm of motor manufacturing took place before the era of government regulation and wet-nursing of private industry. He was free to hazard the fruits of his mechanical genius and his arduous labors in the founding of a little manufacturing company. A small group of friends, willing to gamble and convinced of the integrity of the inventor, advanced a few thousand dollars' capital. In spite of early failures and discouragements, their faith and the faith of Henry Ford proved justified. The little "tinkering" shop grew to a monumental industry, owning iron mines, glass factories, paint factories, foundries, chemical works, a fleet of boats and a railroad.

Would Be Interesting

It would be interesting to have some of our advocates of collectivism tell what "the government" ever did to help Henry Ford or to contribute to the colossal success of his enterprise. It was not "the government" or any of its minions who sat up nights and worked in season and out to put an idea into practice. It was not "the government" which produced by hand work the first Ford automobile. It was not "the government" which incurred the risks of financing the first modest factory. It was not "the government" which hired able and persevering assistants and effected the organization which led to the present vast productive facilities. It was not "the government" which worked out mass production and the assembly line, reducing the cost of motor transportation to consumers by as much as four-fifths.

No, "the government" came along later. But not to help. It harassed him in a dozen ways. Although he had been a leading exponent of high wages and started the industrial world by his $5-a-day minimum, "the government" imposed upon him labor laws and rulings which placed his production under the thumb of labor dictators. It denied him freedom of speech in employee negotiations and sought to impose drastic penalties for his verbal resistance to close shop demands. It burdened him with bales of "questionnaires" and reports and contradictory rules and regulations. In later years "the government" siphoned off the bulk of his earnings in taxes, discouraging improvements or expansion in his industry.

It may be that Henry Ford will stand as the last of a line of great industrialists evolving from the fertile field of American free, competitive enterprise; the whole trend of government for many years past has been to discourage those who would emulate him. And it may be that Henry Ford, the staunch individualist, is fortunate in his departure from the scene before the advent of collectivist economy. For there could be no place for him or his kind, in a regime of socialization.

Raising Of Standards In State's 4,100 One-Room Schools To Launch Program

OTHER FARM NEWS FROM HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, June 20.—(INS)—The State Health department sought to improve rural health by raising hygiene training standards in Pennsylvania's 4,100 one-room schools.

An intensive health education course will be conducted for rural teachers from June 30 to July 19 at Pennsylvania State College, the department announced.

Tuition will be subsidized in the form of scholarships granted by the Pennsylvania Health and Tuberculosis society and a number of county agencies battling tuberculosis, cancer and infantile paralysis.

An experimental project, the course will be directed by Mrs. Edna M. Kech, head of the department's health education bureau. Instruction will be provided by authorities in nutrition, sanitation, hygiene, disease prevention and related subjects.

A supplemental program of adult health education will be offered in most counties some time in the fall, the department reported.

Dr. A. F. Davis, Penn State physical education director, said all courses will be "basic and simplified."

"Demonstrations will be used to make instruction graphic and discussions will follow," he announced.

Year Round Instruction The college and department aimed to achieve year-round instruction of parents and teachers in regular conferences with officials of the Red Cross, the State Cancer society, the Pennsylvania grange and civic groups.

"Teachers must learn to work with them, because health education is not only the responsibility of the school, but also of the home and the community," Davis asserted.

The quartet of 4-H club members chosen from some 20,000 in the state as delegates to the 1947 national camp at Washington will be Ruth F. Knebel, 18, Sunbury, R. D. 1; Mary Lois Kauffman, 18, Roaring Spring, R. D.; Vernon J. Leininger, 19, Denver, R. D. 2, and Russell Orner, 18, Rockton, R. D.

The girls, representing the northeast and southwest districts of the state are high school seniors, while the boys, covering the southeast and northwest districts, are graduates.

The state's farmers and gardeners are hoping for warm, dry weather, which is urgently needed for completion of Spring planting which has been greatly delayed. State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst revealed that some planting schedules were several weeks late.

Too many showers, he explained, have impeded field work. Although temperatures were almost normal, the rainfall was more than twice the normal amount. Wet weather is increasing danger of considerable scab infection of apple trees.

Asparagus cuttings appear plentiful. More commercial tomato plants have been set out, but activity is still light. Sweet corn and beans are being planted in the southwest. Field corn planting—normally completed by this time of the year in the southeast, is general when the weather permits.

STRIKE THREAT

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 20.—(INS)—Motor freight haulers in the Johnstown area today voted to strike at midnight Sunday when the union and three major trucking firms failed to reach a contract agreement.

President H. D. Lehman of the AFL drivers union said the truckers are seeking terms similar to those in Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the Pennsylvania railroad at Johnstown announced an embargo on all shipments less than a carload.

'Safety First' Still Watchword In Coal Industry

Phrase Which Originated In Soft Coal Mines 60 Years Ago, Still Adhered To

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—(INS)—"Safety first," the nation's best known slogan, originated in the bituminous coal industry nearly 60 years ago and has been the watchword of the industry ever since. This was told to a recent meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council by President Harry M. Moses, of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a U. S. Steel subsidiary.

Moses told the safety council that the phrase originated in 1890 in an ordinary company instruction issued by Henry C. Frick. It stated: "We should always keep the fact prominently in our mind that it is the desire of our company, and our duty as well, that we make the safety of the lives of our employees our first and most important business."

Moses explained that, being handed down "y word-of-mouth," the instructions finally evolved into the phrase: "Safety, the first consideration."

Eventually, he added, this was shortened to simply: "Safety first."

Moses declared: "Even the astuteness of Mr. Frick could not have anticipated the far-reaching effect of the authorship in a company instruction of America's most effective and completely comprehensive industrial safety slogan."

He said the phrase became a measure which "set up for the first time the fact that the life and limb of an employee was superior to any other requirement of industrial operation."

Moses declared:

"This was not a gilded catch phrase, but an honest philosophy of management which in the coal industry has been religiously adhered to from that time." Moses quoted statistics from the U. S. Bureau of Mines to show the steady progress in accident prevention in the coal industry—the number of accidents being a third less than in 1930.

Weather Blocks Work On Highways

Contractors Able To Complete Only
4.49 Miles Of Roads In State
During May

HARRISBURG, June 20.—Inclement weather last month seriously handicapped contractors working on road projects for the Department of Highways.

Reports tabulated by the Department show that only 4.49 miles of new pavement was completed under contract during May.

At the beginning of last month the department had 183 active contracts. During May 22 new contracts were executed and seven closed, or a net gain of 15 for the month.

On June 1 the Department had contracts in force providing for the construction of 313.73 miles of road. Contract obligations as of that date were in excess of $41,257,000.

In the first five months of the year the Department opened bids on improvement projects for an estimated cost of $33,077,928. Of that total bids on 17 projects for 34.21 miles of road were rejected in the amount of $4,828,581.

The department has lettings scheduled for June 13 and 20 covering approximately 32 miles at an estimated cost in excess of $5,000,000.

The rainy weather so far this spring also has interfered with the improvement projects being completed by the Department's maintenance forces. The department has a large program of light type macadam and stabilized road improvements authorized for its maintenance workers.

Scouts, YMCA Not Youth 'Cure-Alls'

OMAHA, Neb.—(INS)—Boy Scout organizations, the YMCA, and Sunday schools are not such important factors in curbing juvenile delinquency as most people think, according to Chief Juvenile Probation Officer Richard E. Collins.

"The concept arises from a misinterpretation of data," says Collins. "Socialists plot charts and maps to show that areas with well developed youth organizations have less juvenile delinquency. They conclude that a Boy Scout troop in the middle of a slum area would do much to relieve juvenile crime in the region. Actually, it would not."

"The real reason for the close correlation between good neighborhoods and youth organizations is that parents and children from 'better' homes take more interest in such activities. Boy Scout troops and Sunday schools are not such a success in low rental and slum areas."

Boy Scout Camp
Near Readiness

Expect To Complete Heavy Repair Work This Week; Opening Set For June 29

Heavy repair work at the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scout Camp, which is located on Slippery Rock Creek at Kennedy's Mill, will be completed this week. On Tuesday morning, June 24 the Camp staff will proceed to put the Camp in readiness for the opening day, June 29.

The Campers for the first period will arrive during the afternoon of June 29. The first person to whom they report will be Harold Burry, Camp Director, who in addition to giving each camper a real welcome, will assign them to their respective cabins. At 4 p. m. Eastern Standard Time (slow time), all Campers will report to the swimming pool where Wm. Crowell, Waterfront Director, will give each Scout a swimming test. Then up the hill and at 6 p. m. a chicken dinner will be served in the dining hall, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Laura Byers, Camp Cook.

Following the evening meal a recreational period is provided, then Vesper Service in the Campfire circle at which time the Camp Director will introduce the entire Camp Staff, give out information relative to the daily program, and other opportunities Scouts may avail themselves of during their stay in Camp.

Then to bed to dream of the next day's activity.

The demonstration area will again be a part of the program and the Camp Director urges all Scouts to bring their Scout ax with them to Camp, not that he wants a lot of trees cut down, but rather to have some experience in how to care for and properly use an ax.

The second period of Camp is completely filled, and registrations are still being accepted for the first and third periods. Since there are only three periods Scouts are urged to make reservations now.

The new treatment involves the use of DDT dust applied with a special approved device before and after loading.

Company Earnings Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1947, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Mass., June 20.—This is no time to make forecasts as to business in 1948. Personally, I think it will be better than most people predict; but when it comes to net earnings, after taxes, I fear they will aggregate less in 1948 than in 1947. The year 1947 should see the tops for such net earnings from the large corporations. With the public pressing from above for lower prices, with our labor and taxes pressing from below causing higher costs, the net earnings of most companies are sure to shrink.

Commodities are beginning to crack due to competition. Only parity legislation is holding up farm prices at the present time. Even the farmers themselves know that their present honeymoon will someday be over. Moreover, wages have not yet stabilized. Certain groups are entitled to further increases and will get them; but workers' efficiency will soon begin to improve. When we know some idle man is waiting for our job, we will speed up and give a dollar of work for a dollar received.

Real Estate—with the exception of distressed sales—should remain at about present levels for some time further, although there has been a slowing up in real estate sales. Inflation has always been in operation over long periods. The recent inflation epidemic has about reached its climax for the present. The next move within a few years will be toward deflation, followed later by further inflation. The price breaks which started in with the fish industry a year ago, are now threatening real estate and commodities.

Stock Market: If wages, commodities, real estate, etc.—based upon the money in circulation—are entitled to stabilize at around 50-100 per cent above 1932, as the fiscal authorities claim, the stock market is entitled to do likewise. Therefore, when wondering whether to buy or sell any stock, it is wise to look up the price average in 1932-33 and add 50-100 per cent. Moreover, it should be remembered that stock prices depend much more on earnings than on reproduction costs.

The Next Depression will be brought about by the wheels of the business cracking. This will stop the entire machine for the time being. Perhaps the cracking wheel will be farm prices; perhaps foreign trade; perhaps labor unions, and perhaps government finance. It seems too bad that a depression seems to be necessary once in a while, but such is required in order to awaken in people the desire to work and produce to their best ability. If you will read the preface of my book, "Fighting Business Depressions", published in 1933 by Harper & Bros., New York, you will see I then forecast on the fly leaf that the next severe depression would come between 1950 and 1955.

The Greatest Danger of a depression comes through forced distressed sales in commodities, real estate, stocks and even labor. The greatest service which any employer or investor can render is to store up cash now in times like these in order to help out when these later distressed transactions appear. For every additional person doing this, future distressed quotations will be less severe. Moreover, the investor or employer will be very highly rewarded for his foresight.

Small Businessmen especially should beware of the squalls ahead even although we may have one or more years of good business. In times of depression, the big squall unfortunately comes upon those least able to bear it. This especially applies to the 400,000 returning veterans who recently started small businesses. Those who are out of debt and have sufficient capital to carry them through a bad period should weather the gale; but I fear that the majority will fold up.

Competition is bound to very severe after the demand for goods has once been filled. Too many concerns have gone into manufacturing new products or products which they have never manufactured before. This means a glutted market someday in autos, refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, deep freezers, etc.—products for which people are now clamoring. This over-production coupled with increasing unemployment will surely result in lower earnings for most companies in 1948 even although gross business may still hold up.

Warns U. S. Needs 1,750,000 Troops

MIAMI, Fla., June 20.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of information for the War Department, warned that the United States must have 1,750,000 army and air force troops available on mobilization day if another war comes. Collins, addressing the Reserve Officers' association's annual convention in Miami, indicated that America's present armed forces are inadequate to halt an attack from a foreign power. He said: "We have 10 divisions in the army today. Russia today is capable of putting 200 divisions in the field. Russia's satellites in Europe could put another 100 divisions in the field. "We cannot man 4,000 aircraft today. The Russians have over 10,000. "I simply cite these examples of the fact that we are terribly weak today." The odds of multiple births when there is no previous history of them in the family of either parents, are that twins will appear once in 99 births, triplets once in 7,103, quadruplets once in 737,000, and quintuplets once in 41,600,000.

EACH AND ALL CAN HELP PREVENT FIRES

Fire prevention, chief hope of reducing the mounting toll in life and property from fire, is a job in which everyone can, and should, become actively engaged.

Sacrifice of life and destruction of material resources by fire in Lawrence county are part of a staggering national problem. Ten thousand lives have been lost in the United States each year, on an average, in the last decade. The property loss has steadily increased since 1934, reaching a total of $61,487,000 in 1946, and it now appears that unless prompt action is taken to reduce this needless waste the figure for 1947 will be much greater. One means for improving the situation is through fostering and encouraging a greater sense of individual responsibility on the part of each citizen. Carelessness and recklessness account for about 75 per cent of all fires, and any attempt to correct these faults needs to be supported by the application of modern, scientific methods and techniques of construction, protection and fire fighting.

All too long the public has felt that the subject of fire prevention can be left primarily for the attention of insurance organizations and other groups. It must be recognized as an important obligation of each individual. It must be a day by day, year-round activity in which every man, woman and child participates.

These suggestions are based upon recommendations made at the president's fire prevention conference recently in Washington at which the agricultural extension service was represented by John R. Haswell of the Pennsylvania State college. Extension agricultural engineer, he was one of 2,000 leading fire prevention talent attending by invitation and representing all sections of the United States and Canada.

In 1940, 12 per cent of American girls between 15 and 19 years old were married compared with two per cent in England, Scotland and Wales and one per cent in Ireland, Norway and Germany.

Study Shows Most Afflicted
People Impaired When YoungHARRISBURG, June 20.—An analysis of the types of ages of handicapped Pennsylvania residents who were rehabilitated during the past two years ending June 30, 1947, indicates that more than half of the disabilities occurred at very early ages, according to a statement today by Mark M. Walter, director of the State Bureau of Rehabilitation.Because of the large number of disabilities suffered by residents at early ages, Walter pointed out the importance of referrals from the public schools. He also stressed the fact that director, or others in authority at city play grounds, scout officials, both for boys and girls club authorities, should refer the cases of handicapped youth 16 years of age or over as early as possible to the bureau so that upon entering employment, they would have the advantage of every possible assistance in the highly competitive life
of today.He noted examples where students left high school with employment handicaps, worked as best they could for 10 or 15, or even 20
years, and then upon coming to the attention of the bureau, were rehabilitated and developed a marked increase in their earning capacities. He deplored the fact these cases had not come to the bureau's notice when the individuals left school, at which time they could have been prepared for earning much higher incomes during the years before they came to the bureau's attention.The report of the rehabilitation of 735 handicapped Pennsylvania
residents in the year ending June 30, 1946, and the approximate 2,100 disabled individuals who will have been rehabilitated by June 30, 1947, indicates that about 33 percent of the persons had disabilities that originated in employment or other accidents, about 46 percent originated in disease, 11 percent were congenital, while about five percent resulted from either military or civilian war service. Approximately 52 percent of these rehabilitants were under the age of 20 at the time of disablement, and about 18 percent were between the ages of 20 and 30. This makes a total of 71 percent of the group having disabilities that originated before they were 30 years of age, and after having received rehabilitation services, would have many years in which these services would contribute advantageously both to the individual and to society.Going Out

Study Shows Most Afflicted
People Impaired When YoungHARRISBURG, June 20.—An analysis of the types of ages of handicapped Pennsylvania residents who were rehabilitated during the past two years ending June 30, 1947, indicates that more than half of the disabilities occurred at very early ages, according to a statement today by Mark M. Walter, director of the State Bureau of Rehabilitation.Because of the large number of disabilities suffered by residents at early ages, Walter pointed out the importance of referrals from the public schools. He also stressed the fact that director, or others in authority at city play grounds, scout
officials, both for boys and girls club authorities, should refer the cases of handicapped youth 16 years of age or over as early as possible to the bureau so that upon entering employment, they would have the advantage of every possible assistance in the highly competitive life
of today.He noted examples where students left high school with employment handicaps, worked as best
they could for 10 or 15, or even 20
years, and then upon coming to the attention of the bureau, were rehabilitated and developed a marked increase in their earning capacities. He deplored the fact these cases had not come to the bureau's notice when the individuals
left school, at which time they could have been prepared for earning much higher incomes during the years before they came to the bureau's attention.The report of the rehabilitation of 735 handicapped Pennsylvania
residents in the year ending June 30, 1946, and the approximate 2,100
disabled individuals who will have been rehabilitated by June 30, 1947, indicates that about 38 percent of the persons had disabilities that originated in employment or other accidents, about 46 percent originated in disease, 11 percent were congenital, while about five percent resulted from either military or civilian war service. Approximately 52 percent of these rehabili-
tants were under the age of 20 at
the time of disablement, and about 18 percent were between the ages
of 20 and 30. This makes a total of 71 percent of the group having disabilities that originated before they were 30 years of age, and after having received rehabilitation services, would have many years in which those services would contribute advantageously both to the individual and to society.Smorgasbord To

Visitors From Honolulu

MR. AND MRS. JACK L. HENDERSON

Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Henderson of Honolulu, Hawaii, are visiting with friends, arriving in this country by clipper at San Francisco, and motoring through Canada, Maine, the New England states and finally arrived in New Castle.

Mr. Henderson, a prominent business man in Honolulu, is also a well-known boxing manager; and at present is the manager of Butch O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leasure of 814 West Washington street, this city.

Butch, better known to local boxing fans as Russell Leasure, is continuing his boxing career in Honolulu.

Mr. Henderson and his wife, DeLores N. Henderson, are registered at the Francis hotel. While on a shopping tour in the afternoon, Mrs. Henderson was amazed at the reasonable prices of commodities existing in the city.

In traveling through the state, the Hendersons delayed their return home in an effort to visit with relatives and friends of Butch O'Hara, the local welterweight boxer.

The return home of 2100 miles is undertaken with nonchalance by the Hendersons. Laughingly, Henderson stated that 2100 is "merely a short distance", when considering that only eight hours and 46 minutes in the air traveling by clipper, was needed to cover the span. Ordinarily, the trip lasts five days, when traveling by water.

Douglas Experts Summoned To Give
Air Crash Views

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—President Truman's air safety board Wednesday summoned Douglas Aircraft Co. engineers to testify Friday in connection with the recent crashes of three DC-4 planes, in which 146 persons were killed.

The board noted that all of the planes involved were former army transports converted to commercial use and indicated that an overall investigation would be made into conversion procedure.

As the five-member panel specially appointed by the president following the tragic series of accidents went into the second day's session, Nathaniel H. Goodrich of New York was named counsel, and executive secretary for the group.

Goodrich served as an army air forces technical censor during the war and at present is acting counsel for the president's scientific research board.

The air safety investigators announced that "as soon as the immediately pressing problems have been handled" the program of "federal agencies charged with aviation regulation and administration" will be studied.

The board said it also plans to "analyze and evaluate new equipment designed to assure greater safety."

CONFESSIONS TAKING HUGE SUM

CHICAGO, June 20.—(INS)—The state's attorney's office said that white-haired William J. Cooney, 50 of Chicago, assistant secretary of the far-flung Walgreen company, today "confessed" he embezzled between $70,000 and $106,000 to play the race horses.

Cooney allegedly told C. Vernon Thompson, assistant state's attorney, that he took the money from the Walgreen Management Co. The company is the firm through which employees of the Walgreen drug stores makes purchases of the company's stock.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP
From all indications the United States will this year harvest the largest wheat crop ever grown in any country of the world. While it is still too early to make definite estimates regarding the yield of spring wheat, it is roughly calculated that the total wheat harvest will amount to about 1,300,000,000 bushels. To store and transport this bumper crop will tax existing facilities as they never were taxed before.

Vocation Expert Advises 'Prepare'

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—Guess-work on their future must be eliminated by young people preparing themselves for a specific vocation, according to Robert E. Grove, Pittsburgh advertising executive.

Describing current aptitude, knowledge and ability tests given students headed for advertising careers, Grove said:

"Too many young people prepare themselves for work for which later experience reveals, they are unsuited. Too late they find that they would have been more successful in another line."

Grove said all young people "should be provided with a means by which they can determine their aptitude and knowledge for work" which they hope to follow.

Current tests, sponsored by the American Association of Advertising Agencies, are an effort to help beginners looking toward an advertising career, Grove said.

Annual Reunion Held At Moravia

Descendants Of Early Settlers Gather For Reunion At Church Thursday

Moravia Presbyterian church, Wampum-New Castle road, was the scene of the reunion of the descendants of early settlers and pioneers of the district on Thursday, June 19.

Over 100 gathered during the day to reminisce over by-gone days and to enjoy a bountiful tureen dinner at noon. Among those present, were a number who attended the first reunion held in 1931. Due to the war years, no reunion was held from 1942 to 1946, with this being the first reunion since the war began.

Even the weatherman smiled on the old timers who had gathered at the church. Most of these represented the early settlers of the community who came there in 1796. Some even came from north of Sharon to be in attendance at the event.

During the day, an enjoyable program was presented for the enjoyment of the old timers, with the following receiving prizes in the various events: Largest family, Mrs. Richard McChesney; oldest parent, Mrs. Laura Johnston; coming the farthest, Mrs. Ella Pitzer Stewart; Sharon; peanut race, first, Charlotte Werner; second, Ruth Ann Edgerton; girl's balloon race, Ruth Edgerton; boy's race, first, Joel Kratzer; second, Walter Mielkie; candy race, Doris Allen; women's cup race, Mrs. George McCann; and men's race, Rev. C. B. Sweet. The officers of the reunion association include: President, Mrs. George McConnell; vice president, Mrs. Blanche Snodgrass; secretary, Mrs. A. J. Eckles and treasurer, Mrs. Norman Duff.

The name, "Father of Waters" was given to the Mississippi river by the French Jesuit missionary, Jacques Marquette.

See 1947 Lettuce Crop Topping '46

HARRISBURG, June 20.—Slightly more lettuce is expected to be produced commercially this year in Pennsylvania than in 1946, but there will be less asparagus and spring spinach, the State Department of Agriculture announces from preliminary surveys by the Federal-State Crop Reporting service.

Although asparagus acreage this year is the same as last, totaling 2,300 acres in Pennsylvania, the indicated yield per acre of 95 crates of 24 pounds each is 10 less than last year. Officials said the reduction is due to the late season caused by cool, wet weather. Total estimated production of 218,000 crates is 24,000 below 1946.

Commercial lettuce acreage is reported at 400 acres, 20 more than last year. Yield per acre is estimated at 150 crates, the same as last year. Total production of 60,000 crates will be 3,000 more than in 1946.

NEWLYWEDS RETURN; TAKE UP RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott, nee Pearl Stanley, of Bessemer, have returned from a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, N. J. and New York City following their wedding June 10 in the Bessemer Presbyterian church. They have taken up residence with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Stanley, of Bessemer.

For her wedding, the bride, given in marriage by her eldest brother, Lawrence Stanley, wore a gown of white marquisette, in train, and a fingertip veil of illusion that fell from a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and snapdragons, and wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Her attendants, her sister Mrs. Edward Watson, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Fern Scott, sister of the groom, and Miss Arley Ann Nord, were gowned in pink, blue, and yellow mousseline respectively with posy carnation head-dresses and carried bouquets of mixed June flowers. Her niece, Karen Stanley, as flower girl, wore pink.

Wilbur Kurler was best man and ushers were Robert Rowe and Paul Tasto.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:50 by Rev. E. Chester Crab. Preceding, a half-hour recital of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Audley Snyder, cousin of the bride, and Miss Bette Hedegore, another cousin, sang four favorite selections of the bride.

White peonies, blue iris, ferns and palms banked the altar with seven-branched candelabra at each side.

There was a reception in the church basement for 125 guests following the ceremony. On the bride's table, decorated in pink and white, stood the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Ivan Henderson, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Francis Wilson, of Youngstown, sister of the bride, poured. Aides were Mrs. Lawrence Stanley, Mrs. Wilbur Stanley, Mrs. Glenn Stanley, and Mrs. Lawrence Tennis. On display were the gifts received by the young couple.

Mrs. Scott was formerly employed at the Bessemer Limestone & Cement Company. Mr. Scott, a veteran of World War II, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Scott, of Bessemer. He is employed by the P. & L. E. R.R. Co.

Tolson heard the exchange of vows.

Miss Sally Ball, accompanied by Mrs. Jane Ott at the organ, sang several nuptial selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white chiffon gown with a fingertip veil and a strand of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried white carnations. Her sister, Miss Betty Lou Ryan, was made of honor, with bridesmaids being her cousins, Misses Wilda Jane and Jean Weygant. Little Bonnie Lee Cozard, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Oliver Martin served his brother as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony for 150 guests. After a wedding trip the couple will reside with the bride's parents.

W. C. T. U. AND L. T. L.

Wayne Union

Members of the Wayne W. C. T. U. held an enjoyable institute at Ewing Park, Ellwood City, Tuesday, for morning and afternoon sessions. A picnic dinner was served at noon.

During the business meeting under the direction of the president, Mrs. Edna Houk, it was disclosed that Slippery Rock Presbyterian church had contributed $42 to the religious education department. It was voted to have a special meeting Wednesday evening, June 25 at the home of Mrs. Victor Markie, of the old Pittsburgh road. At this time there will be another ribbon tying for babies in order that the union may reach the required number of White Ribbon babies for the year. Election of officers will also take place.

In the afternoon reports of nine departments were given by various members of each department. A report of the World's W. C. T. U. convention at Asbury Park, N. J., was given by Mrs. Markie and Mrs. Edward Beltz, who have recently returned. It was disclosed in the report that W. C. T. U. is now active in 46 countries of the world and L. T. L. in 13 of the 46. There were 381 delegates from all parts of the world, each one representing a thousand W. C. T. U. members. Miss Regina Meade reported a membership of over 7000 for the Youth Temperance Council.

One of the impressive services of the convention was the candle lighting in the large convention hall representing over 2500 Light Line Unions of the U. S. A. while the group sang "Wind the Ribbon Round the Nation". The address of Dr. Clinton Howard, of Washington, was entitled "What's the Matter With Prohibition". In answering himself he said "the commandments had ten prohibitions, they have never been revised, they have never been repealed".

The last session of the convention featured two minute speeches by 25 delegates from as many countries being followed by the installation of officers, as follows: world president, Mrs. J. Forrester Paton, of Scotland; first, second and third vice-presidents respectively, Mrs. D. Leigh Calvin, U. S. A., Miss Isabel McCormick, Australia and Mrs. Allie Areo Englund, Sweden; Mrs. H. ## Optimists Fete Marble Champion, Three Runners-up

Youngsters Guests At Meeting Thursday: Rabbi Paul Katz Addresses Club

Jimmy Gwin, marble-shooting champion of Lawrence county, and the three runners-up in the tournament staged in the city last Saturday, were special guests of the Optimist club Thursday evening in The Castleton hotel.

Martin Leonhardt, teacher at Lincoln-Garfield school, and director of the "mibs" tourney, spoke on the national play-offs which will be held in Wildwood, N. J. beginning Sunday, June 22 and ending June 27. Mr. Leonhardt will take the county championship to the resort site for the games.

Rabbi Katz Speaks
Rabbi Paul Katz of Temple Israel was the speaker of the evening and delivered an inspiring message to the club members, choosing as his subject "Tolerance".

Stressing the need for spiritual change in this post-war period, he said that tolerance and friendliness towards our fellow-man must be the rule of life. He said this rule must also be brought to an international level if we are to have peace between the nations of the earth.

Senate Seeking Reason For Loss On German Marks

Ask Declaration Of Policy
On Losses On Marks
Printed In Russian Zone

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Senate sought an administrative declaration of policy today on losses incurred by the War department through conversion of unbacked occupation marks printed in the Russian zone of Germany.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., also asked Treasury, State and War department aides to supply all cables, memoranda, directives and other papers connected with the transfer to Russia of bureau of printing and engraving plates for the printing of occupation marks.

Bridges was chairman of a joint session of the appropriations, armed services and banking and currency committee that investigated the financial situation in occupation areas.

Believed Approved
The joint session heard former Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy testify that he believed President Roosevelt approved transfer of the plates to Russia in the spring of 1944.

Under questioning by Sen. Morse (R) Ore., McCloy admitted that while he did not know personally, he believed transfer of the plates had been approved by former Secretaries of State and the Treasury, Hull and Morgenthau, as well as by the late president.

It has been charged that the Russians are using the plates to make "printing press money" that is undermining the German economy. The marks also were being converted into U. S. currency by occupation authorities until the army found itself holding 250 million dollars more in marks than were covered by appropriated funds.

Ask Recommendation
Morse suggested that the information obtained by the joint session be forwarded to the present secretaries of the treasury and state, and to the president for policy recommendations. Morse said: "I think we should ask them what they have to recommend to remedy what seems to be a very bad situation."

"We should find out what position the administration wishes to take on this. I think we are entitled to know."

Bridges agreed, but decided to delay forwarding of the information gained and records of the joint session until further documents and papers are received from the executive departments.

The chairman said he was particularly interested in memoranda and directives issued by the Treasury and State department before the plates were given Russia.

Andrew N. Overby, special assistant to the secretary of the treasury, said he understood the plates were transferred to the Russians on the oral orders of former Secretary Morgenthau.

Forecast Spotty On Potato Crop

HARRISBURG, June 20.—The potato outlook in Pennsylvania for this season is "up and down," the State Department of Agriculture reported today. Federal-State surveys as of June 1 showed early potatoes in southeastern counties have good stands and are making rapid growth. Wet weather hindered cultivation and spraying. Fleabeetles are numerous in some sections.

Planting of the late crop of potatoes has been delayed two to three weeks in many areas of the State. In northern counties few potatoes had been planted by June 1 and some plowing remained to be done.

Anthony Eden Assails Soviet March In Europe

LONDON, June 20.—(INS)—Former British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has accused the Communists of "unhappily undermining the confidence" of the victorious allies through their "flagrant" expansion in eastern Europe.

Initiating foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons this afternoon, the suave Eden—acting as leader of the opposition during the convalescence of Winston Churchill—said the Conservatives are increasingly concerned with the trend of events in the international sphere.

Eden referred to the coup, whereby Soviet-supported Communists gained control of the Hungarian government, as the "most flagrant example" of Communist expansion. He added:

"There is apprehension over what the next move... 'Will it be Finland, where there are rumors... or Italy?'"

Eden further charged the Greek Communists with trying to wreck President Truman's aid plan. He added that the opposition in Britain fears European recovery will be paralyzed by failure of the wartime allies to reach necessary agreements.

The Conservative spokesman expanded upon the Balkan situation and branded as "Undemocratic" the trend within Bulgaria where anti-government leaders recently were subjected to a "political purge."

Arab Leader Says Promises Made By Late President

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—Abdul Rahman, Azzam Pasha Arab league secretary, disclosed that President Roosevelt's assurance that French rule in North Africa would be changed after the war was interpreted by the Arab world as a promise of independence. Azzam Pasha said that the late President gave the promise when he conferred with the Sultan of Morocco at Casablanca in January, 1943, at the time of the "Big Three" meeting.

The Arab League official, at a news conference, said that his organization is determined to work for the freedom of North Africa from British-French and Spanish Imperialism. He said that North Africa with its population of 25 million Arabs must be liberated so that the Arabs and the rest of the world can live in peace.

VISIT ATHENS, GREECE

Two New Castle navy men, Angelo Medure, seaman second class, USN, son of Mrs. Jeannie Medure of 1012 Clearview avenue, and Eugene D. Velte, fireman first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Velte of 1010 Williams street, have visited Piraeus, the port of Athens, Greece, while serving aboard the light cruiser USS Providence, flagship of cruiser division 10.

Maintenance forces have undertaken the reconstruction of the damaged roads and bridges. In many instances, the Secretary said, it has been necessary to shut down on Department construction projects in order to provide labor and equipment to handle these emergency operations.

Due to the inability of the Department to obtain steel it has been necessary to replace bridges with timber structures.

The heavy precipitation throughout the State this spring, Secretary forces and also their fiscal allocation burden on the maintenance Smock added, has placed an additional burden on the Department.

Damage to roads has been the most expensive item according to preliminary tabulations. Engineers estimate that it will cost $289,000 to place the damaged sections of highway in condition again.

The loss to the Department for bridges is estimated at $239,400. During April and May this year the Department lost 13 bridges because of flood conditions. In addition 56 others were damaged.

Heaviest Flood Damage In Five Years To Roads

Estimate Loss In Excess Of $528,000
To Roads, Bridges This Spring In State

HARRISBURG, June 20.—Flood damage to roads and bridges this spring has been the most expensive in five years, Ray F. Smock, Secretary of Highways, reported.

Preliminary tabulations by engineers shows the loss to the Department is in excess of $528,000.

Maintenance forces have undertaken the reconstruction of the damaged roads and bridges. In many instances, the Secretary said, it has been necessary to shut down on Department construction projects in order to provide labor and equipment to handle these emergency operations.

Truman Advisor Asserts Soviet Possesses Bomb

Very Rev. E. A. Walsh Says Russia Has 'Complete Knowledge' Of Secret

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—A member of the president's advisory commission on universal military training told congress Wednesday that Russia has "complete knowledge" of the atomic bomb.

The Very Rev. Edmund A. Walsh testified before the house armed services committee that Russia will be ready to start "a shooting war" as soon as she manufactures the bomb. He estimated that would be in three to four years.

Rep. Thomas (R) N. J., chairman of the house un-American activities committee and a member of the armed services committee, asked Walsh:

"When will Stalin resort to shooting?"

Walsh replied:

"Not until he is in possession of the atomic bomb, but I'm prepared to go on record as saying that they have complete knowledge of how to make it. They probably will have the atom bomb within three to four years. I'm convinced that they have the formula."

Father Walsh expressed belief Russia is "stalling in the United Nations" to gain time to manufacture the bomb. He added: "They're creeping up two years on us."

He estimated that 7,000 men of scientific ability have been either kidnapped to Russia from Germany or provided "inducements" to work for the Soviet government.

Walsh is vice president of Georgetown university in Washington and regent of its school of foreign service.

He charged that with one exception Stalin is now following the same pattern used by Hitler before World War II. The one exception, he stated, is that Stalin seeks to accomplish his aims without a shooting war.

COMPLETES NAVY CRUISE
William H. Gamble, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gamble of New Castle, has returned to the United States aboard the aircraft carrier USS Leyte after an extensive tour of the Mediterranean area.

While on the cruise the Leyte visited Istanbul, Turkey; Souda Bay, Crete; Alexandria, Egypt; Naples and Gibraltar.

Parson Lists Marriage Aids

CHICAGO, Ill.—(INS)—The Rev. Clinton C. Cox, a Presbyterian minister in Chicago, is conducting a "Marriage School" for 200 young couples at his church.

Here are some bits of advice he gave to his class.

"The past for both is a sealed book. A man will not tell all. A girl should not be compelled to confess all."

"Avoid long engagements."

"Be discreet and be prudent."

Warns Against Secret Marriages
He warns against marrying secretly against the wishes of parents, and adds these bits of advice:

"Avoid the extravagance and debt of too large a wedding and reception."

"Avoid long, wearying trips for your honeymoon and do NOT go to visit relatives. Be alone as much as possible and with as much leisure and relaxation as possible."

Suggests Couple Live Alone
"Live alone—especially at first (the Rev. Cox, however, had no useful suggestions on how to find an apartment.)"

"Never criticize or be sarcastic to each other in public."

"Make definite plans to have children."

He urges his young listeners to start their homes by calling on God to help them.

Occupation of Silesia has changed Poland from a primarily agricultural nation to one with a high industrial potential.

IN THE OPEN

I slew a dragon the other day. It took me a good many years to run down this "monster" but I finally caught up with him on the bank of a so-called trout stream. I was moseying along, minding my own business, when I almost fell over this odd-looking creature. To be exact there were two dragons, and I slew but one, leaving the other to flourish there amid the wild beauty of the creek-side.

There was no need for any coat of mail, or St. Georgian sword, for this fellow put up no fight. It was the green dragon, first cousin to our common Jack-in-the-pulpit, but so far as I am concerned a much rarer member of our wayside citizenry. The plants were a full three feet tall, each with one solitary leaf divided into nearly a dozen segments. The snake-like spadix protruded several inches beyond the tubular sheath hiding the flowers. Later on the orange-yellow berries will stand revealed, much as do the berries of cousin Jack.

Should Have Some Fall

The stream did not look too interesting, although many stocked fish are taken from it each year. For my money a trout stream should have some fall, racing down the cool mountainside from pocket to pocket, and offering the brookies plenty of good mountain water, well aerated, in which to develop the fighting heart which has made this fish the angler's favorite.

Where the creek broke across a sharp shallow riffle I waded through to the far bank and plunged into the thick woodland. Soon I was following a sharp deer track along a trail softened by recent rains. This was clearly the well-defined trail of a heavy buck. Here and there he had stopped to browse the undergrowth. He turned off the trail near a thick copse a short way up the hillside and was probably watching me from the covert, as I blundered past.

Tiny Flower Showing

A tiny woods flower, the little white blossom of the partridge berry, was showing in the open areas near the hemlocks. This midget is a favorite with all outdoorsmen. The small evergreen leaves are a familiar sight along deer trails and by the mountain brooks. The white flowers are in pairs and very fragrant. The red berry, persisting in winter, is also well known. It is edible, but is better when left as forage for the birds.

The trail dipped sharply across a deep gully washed out by a wet weather spring. My boot slipped on the shale and skidded abruptly to the bottom of the little ravine. A pair of Maryland yellow-throats set up quite a fuss, coming down within five feet to order me out of there. I looked all about for the nest but found only a few plants of the American brooklime, with the tiny flowers a startling, vivid blue.

Butterflies of all sizes and descriptions floated about in the clearings. Many of the little skippers were abroad and I saw one beetle in a skyblue coat with a band of bright yellow across the supper back. Among the flowers to be seen in the open woodland were one of the milkweed clan, with pinkish-white blooms, and the quite common crosswort. Ferns of many varieties were in evidence as well as the ground cedar and the shining club moss.

Hawkweeds Taking Over

The hawkweeds are taking over the floral show in many locations these days. I saw the orange hawkweed in some wasteland by the streamside, and the common yellow hawkweed is to be seen along all roadsides where the farmer's mower has not nipped it or the poison ivy choked it out. A full cousin, the rattlesnake plant, is blooming in rocky woodlands. Another yellow bloom which has long been a favorite with me is the lowly moneywort, now in flower in its chosen haunts. I came out of the woods hard by a picnic grove where cooking fires were going and ball games were under full steam. It was pleasing to note the wide stream between the wooded hills and those picnickers, for in an open glade, not 50 yards from home base, a magnificent stand of wild blue iris raised their bearded blue flowers as a votive offering to the sun they worship. These flowers are becoming all too scarce hereabouts, especially in the neighborhood of picnic groves.

Good Weather For Weeds

The much discussed and cursed subject called weather has certainly been to the liking of the weeds and grasses sabotaging my garden rows this season. Never did the corn do worse and never did the redroot and goosefoot do better! I have half a mind to settle for a few cabbages and tomatoes, and let the weeds take over for the summer.

One recent evening we watched a sphinx moth over the old-fashioned sweet williams in the flower plots. He staged a hummingbird takeoff, poising on whirling wings as his long tongue probed for the nectar. When viewed head-on he looks surprisingly like a tiny owl, dipping away among the nectar pots. I think our visitor was the tomato sphinx, fueling up to open a barrage on my marglobes.

SASSY FRASS

Many people confuse the term "post cards" and "postal cards." The cards bought from a post office and containing stamps printed on them are properly called "postal cards." The unstamped cards bought in stores and usually containing a picture on one side are properly called "post cards."

The eyes of the owl are fixed in its head so that they cannot be moved in their sockets. The bird must change its position in order to change its line of vision.

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 20.—(INS)—One of the last organizations to forget servicemen will be Victory Volunteers. Meadville's Servicemen organization.

To continue its contributions of presents for departing draftees and special gifts while the men were in service during the war, the Volunteers are not sending monthly newsletters to remind men still in service about home.

Miss Gertrude Dee Thomas, local newspaperwoman and founder and president of the club, said, "Our mailing list has shrunk to a fraction of what it once was, but the monthly letter will be published until the list is down to zero."

Jay-Bees And Evans City Win Opening Games In Tournament

Fans Thrilled By First Night Games At Flaherty Field

Crowd Of Over 2,000 Attend Dedication Of Field, Tourney Opening; Two More Fast Games On Card Tonight; First Game At 6 O'Clock.

New Castle had its first night baseball. Inauguration of under-the-lights baseball in this city drew a crowd of over 2,000 shivering fans, who braved the coldest June 13, in many a moon, to witness the dedication of beautiful P. J. Flaherty Field, and the opening round in the National Baseball Congress District tournament, of non-professional teams.

New Castle responded to night baseball like ducks to water. At 7:55 o'clock when the lights were turned on with the first game more than half over, there were oh's and ah's from the throats of every fan present. The myriad of lights make the field like day.

Ralph H. Gardner, deputy commissioner of the NBC and business manager for the Johnson Bronze Employees baseball park, Joseph H. Daugherty, Johnson Bronze Employees president, and other Bronze officials were at the game, gratified at the turnout in view of the evening after three previous postponements. "Tex" Riffel, State NBC Commissioner attended the game.

Evans City Wins
The Evans City team of the Butler County league won the opening game in the NBC tourney, the game getting under way at 6:30 o'clock, the score was 6 to 2 and the fans enjoyed it. To young Joe Weiss of the Beaver Falls Cornell Dairy team, the losers, went the honor of getting the first hit and scoring the first run in the new ball park, this occurring in the second inning.

It was a 1 to 0 game, Beaver Falls leading, until the last of the fifth inning, when Glenn Marburger of Evans City stepped up and clouted a terrific triple with three mates aboard, to put the Butler Countians in the lead 3 to 1, and they sewed it up in the last of the seventh with another three-run outburst. Eddie Ripper did a swell pitching job allowing five hits and fanning nine batters. Evans City made six hits off of Ripper and made every one count. G. Marburger was the leading hitter in the first game with a triple and double.

Jay-Bees Sting Mars
Making the official opening of the spacious modern baseball plant all the more auspicious was the manner in which the Johnson Bronze Jay-Bees team, the host team in the tourney, put their stingers to work in the very first tuning and drove in three runs to demolish Mars Legion of the Butler County league, and go on to win a lopsided 14 to 5 victory.

Haines Looks Good
Haines had his handcufts with him the first four innings and using an assortment of pitches, slow and fast, gave but one hit for the first four heats. The Jay-Bees started teeling off on Hardy in the first inning, William Aloe and Johnny Maguskiak, the first two men up, getting singles, and incidentally, Maguskiak of the Indies team had four hits in five trips, including a triple and double, to grab hitting honors for the evening.

Gardner announced last night that with the dedication over, the prices for the remaining games in the preliminary round, the first and second rounds, will be 50 cents for general admission and 75 cents for reserved seats, with 25 cents for children under 12.

"We are going to start the games at 6 o'clock each evening, in order that the fans can get home earlier than they did last night, but of course the dedication exercises took up part of the time," Gardner stated.

Grand Evening
All in all it was a grand evening for baseball despite the fact that the weatherman went back and sat down in a corner and enjoyed a good laugh up his sleeve with his old pal Jack Frost doing what he could to throw a cold shoulder on the grand opening, all to no avail, as the fans sat through the proceedings and cheered till the last man was out.

Just like any other rabid baseball fan, P. J. Flaherty stayed until the second game was over. He seemed to enjoy himself and applauded every good play just like Mr. Average Fan.

Two more tourney games will be played tonight starting at 6 o'clock with the Wampum team of the County league battling Ryantown of the City league, and the National Electric of Ambridge meeting South Hills, another City league team at 8:30 o'clock.

Bessemer Laces St. Lucy, 19-2
BESSEMER, June 20.—St. Lucy's last-place club absorbed their second straight flattening here last night as the Cementers rode over them, 19-2.

Slamming out 15 hits, the Martin men bombarded Saint hurriers Repasky and Squelgia, taking advantage of the former's wildness and ineffectiveness to tally seven runs in the second frame to take a commanding lead.

Behind this cannonading young Jim Martin served up a sparkling three-hitter fanning nine and holding the Saints in fine control throughout.

The win gives the Cementers an 11 and 4 record for the season and places them only a game and one-half behind the Wampum Legion.

Legion Juniors To Play Keystone
Perry S. Gaston Post American Legion Junior team will play the Keystone A. C. in a practice game at George Washington Field, Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock. Business Manager Al Genkinger stated today.

UMPIRES FAIL TO SHOW
Castlewood invaded Edenburg last night for a postponed game play-off, and although the association umpires didn't arrive, the game was played anyway, with the Tigers the winners, 3-0.

It will be necessary to play the game at a future date to make the contest official.

Pirates Lambast Giants 12 To 2

Star Giants Pitcher Monte Kennedy Has Fractured Skull, Cooper Pounded

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 20.—The pennant hopes of the New York Giants were punctured today by two blows to their pitching staff.

Monte Kennedy, star southpaw of the New York staff, will be lost to the team for at least a month. He suffered a linear fracture of the skull when felled by a line drive off Walker Cooper's bat during batting practice before yesterday's game with Pittsburgh.

Less than an hour later, the Giants discovered they evidently had acquired a gold brick in Mort Cooper, acquired from the Boston Braves in exchange for Bud Bill Voiselle.

Big Mort was making his first start for the Giants and the happy pre-game chatter was that he would be a new man, once reunited with his brother and battery mate. This pleasant dream became a nightmare when the former Cardinal mound ace was knocked out of the box in the third inning.

So the demoralized Giants lost a sure winner in Kennedy, a potential 12 to 2 score, and the National League lead to the idle Braves.

Yanks Beaten
In fact, New York yielded the driver's seat in both major league races to the center of culture, censorship and codfish. Boston's Red Sox, although idle along with the Braves, were promoted to first place in the American League when the New York Yankees bowed 6 to 4 to the Chicago White Sox.

Philadelphia's Athletics jumped back into the first division by beating Detroit 8 to 4 behind Phil Murchison.

Dodgers Turn Cubs
Brooklyn took third place away from Chicago in the National League thanks to Pee Wee Reese. The mighty mite, moved up from eighth to third place in the batting order, clouted a triple, double and single and led the Dodgers to a 5 to 1 triumph over the Cubs. Ralph Branca went the route for the Brooks and Johnny Schmitz was the victim.

Other teams were idle.

Columbus Club And Gus Nine Win
Columbus Club had little trouble defeating the Eagles in an American Legion League game, Tuesday evening, behind the fine pitching of Mazzocca, while Gus' Nine won from Croton A. C. 12-3 in a postponed game, last night.

There were plenty of hits in the Columbus Club-Eagles tilt. Canger, Frank, DeFelice, and Ford had three hits apiece, with Frank a double and DeFelice, a triple. Hamilton had two for the Eagles.

Although Croton got eight hits off Ross, they were only able to bunch them in one inning, when they scored three runs in the fifth, and Gus' Nine won handily on Cedar Street field.

Pakovich with two doubles and a single, Marcotuli with three singles, and Parenti with a triple and single, featured for Gus' Nine. Sheehy had a double and two singles for Croton.

Nashua Bumped By Volant, 5-2
League-leading Nashua club got a rude shock last night as they were halted for the second time this season—Volant topping them, 5-2, behind the masterful five-hit twirling to Don "Red" Young.

With Young taming the loop-pacers, his mates raked the offerings of Nashua chucker Hill for 11 safeties, with the heavy hitting resting on the shoulders of Wagner and pitcher Young, each with three blows.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THERE are strange goings on, pugilistically, hereabouts. For instance, Tiger Jack Biddle and Russell Baxter, both local middleweights, stroll together, talk pleasantly, and to the casual observer, appear the best of friends, but down deep in their hearts lies a yearning to smash each other into oblivion—in the ring. A month or two ago, George Sheppard, who once piloted Baxter, sent via Here & There a defi to Baxter. The message was delivered but little thought was given to the challenge, because Tiger Jack was in Florida where he battled several times last winter. However, now that he is home both Baxter and he are anxious to feud with gloves, and despite their apparent friendliness, something may come out of it. . . . Frankie Moran goes against Joey Wright, Friday night in Erie. It will be Joey's first professional fight. . . . Bill Bradley, local 160-pounder is pining for action, as is Ross Hoover, a middleweight protegee of Mickie Solomon, who is imparting the finer points of the art of hit and miss to Hoover. . . . Chubby Conter departs for Canada and its fish June 29. He will remain two weeks. . . . Lawrence County Council of Sportsman will meet in the Y, Friday evening.

Folk who follow the runners at Randall, can board the Saturday race special via the P. L. & E., at 12:14, E. S. T., Saturday, for the meet, which opened May 16 and will close July 5. . . . Arbie Bowie, a Johnny Locisano fighter, lost to Sammy Schipani at Pittsburgh while Jimmie Sanders beat Billy Squall. . . . Billy Pozza is going to Canada for base, instead of staying here and making suckers out of his opponents. . . . Frank Sargent has asked Here & There to notify ex-OCDS that he needs help to handle the crowd for the Optimists air show Sunday at the Airport. They should call him at 6586. . . . Arthur Alexander, recreation director, has been unable to get the Neshannock creek pool open because of high water. . . . Henry Jordan and Sonny Horne are listed for 10 rounds, June 25, at Youngstown. . . . Tom Frank will see the Robinson-Doyle fight, June 24, at Cleveland. He has a pair of ring sides.

Bisque Warerom Still Leading In Pottery Golf Loop

Wednesday evening 42 Shenango Pottery golfers went to the Castle Hills course and enjoyed a round in their Shepoco league, the Bisque Warerom team retaining first place with 22½ points over 4½ above the nearest rivals Jigger Shop with 18.

Bill Mancino is captain of the Bisque Warerom team and is doing a swell job of handling his men. Medalist for the play Wednesday evening was Ange Cimino with a sparkling 36 card one over on the front nine, with Chuck Perry runner-up with a 38 card.

Standing of the league to date: Bisque Warerom, 22½; Jigger Shop, 18; Printers, 16½; Laboratory, 15; Bisque Klin, 12; Cup Shop, 10½; Office Force, 8; Clay Shop Foremen, 8; Decals, 2½.
